WASHINGTON, April 18.—Great Britain's failure to make any budgetary provision for payment of the debt installment due the United States in June serves to complicate an already well complicated situation.

The action is tantamount to notice that the British government plans either to ignore the debt altogether, or make another insignificant "token" payment on the $85,670,765 due on June 15. The impression prevails here that she will again resort to the small token payment in order to avoid the onus of complete default.

Problem For President
The situation poses a pretty problem for President Roosevelt. He has indicated at various times that he will communicate with Congress before it adjourns on the whole broad question of the foreign debts, but no hint as to the nature of this communication has been forthcoming.

Meanwhile, negotiations for amelioration of the British debt, begun last October, are in a state of complete suspension. So far as is known, there are no plans for resuming them in the near future.

PA NEWC OBSERVES

Young Pa Newc observed on Tuesday afternoon that many holes on North Jefferson street paving have been filled with asphalt.

Another season was formally ushered in last night. Pa Newc got a glimpse of a spring enthusiast pushing a lawn mower over a north hill lawn in the early evening.

Two youths were noted hanging onto the rear end of a moving Highland street car last night. This practice bogs up now and then until some drastic measures are taken to stop it. Another campaign on these car hoppers is due.

Indications are that some program will be worked out for this spring and summer whereby there will be a series of public tennis courts maintained in the city. The project is arousing interest on the part of fans, players and city officials.

It looked like a rabbit convention was under way on a lot at the corner of Meyer avenue and Highland this morning. Three rabbits were to be seen hopping around over the plot.

Detour signs of large proportions have been erected on route 422 showing the detour via Wilmington avenue, Pulaski road and the Harbor, while the New Bedford road is closed for the repaving work just outside the city.

Work on the new federal building on the Public Square has progressed to such a stage now that the exterior of the building is assuming completed form. Outside false work has been removed, window frames have been put in, and the structure still looks quite imposing.

"People Not Drinking As They Formerly Did"

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, April 18.—The state liquor control board today declared that it was "broke".

In a formal statement the board declared it has already paid liquor bills in excess of $7,000,000, has a present cash balance of more than $1,250,000 and shows a net profit of $1,250,000 since beginning operations last January 1.

The board admitted charges made in a newspaper article in Philadelphia that estimated consumption was greatly in excess of actual consumption, but declared that its liquor purchases were made on the basis of estimates of the Treasury Department in Washington and after a study of federal tax records of the pre-prohibition years. The board explained:

No Marked Demand

Will Ask For Formal Opinion On Registration Change Before Primary

Teams Enlist Seven Hundred Y. W. Members

Annual Campaign Sets Record Never Reached Since Y. W.'s First Year

DINNER LAST NIGHT CONCLUDES CAMPAIGN

As was thought likely, the story carried in The News Tuesday to the effect that voters could not transfer from one party to another before the spring primary has met with some consternation upon the part of people interested in changing registrations.

It was insisted today by an attorney that such transfer could be made upon application to the county commissioners. The commissioners were asked their stand in the matter and the three of them, P. O. Elder, A. E. Conner and Franklyn R. Woods, said that they would ask for a formal opinion from their solicitor, Attorney William McElwee Jr.

Await Solicitor's Opinion
"We will be governed entirely by what Mr. McElwee says," said A. E. Conner. "If he tells us that no transfers can be made, then we will instruct our chief clerk to refuse all requests for such transfers."

Mr. McElwee stated today that he knew of no law that would permit a voter to change his registration just to "flop". Error in registration was the only reason for a change, he said.

The condition which some candidates and ward leaders want to get changed is this: in 1933 there were hundreds of Republican voters who registered Democratic. With the spring primary four weeks away they now want to get back into the Republican ranks in order to vote. They cannot do under the ruling just made.

Dr. Mildred Rogers, membership chairman, and Mrs. A. B. Fankhauser, president of the board of directors, expressed their great satisfaction with the report, and brought to the attention of the assembled 55 workers that despite the fact that the citizens are in the midst of economic difficulties the support of the Y. W. C. A. this year is stronger

MORE LIBERAL RFC PROGRAM IN VIEW

HOLLYWOOD, April 18.—A romance with Rudy Vallee? John Nicholas Foran? Lyle Talbot? Not. Not. Not!

"Isn't such a thing as acquaintanceship possible without talk of romance or marriage? There's nothing to it all," insisted pretty Alice Faye, torch singer, following her return today to Hollywood from New York.

Foran, a movie crooner, will arrive today to fulfill an engagement opposite Miss Faye in her next Fox picture.

This was disclosed officially at the White House today, along with the announcement that Mr. Roosevelt has instructed officials of the RFC, the comptroller of the currency, and the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, to make a wide survey of banks still closed, with a view to adopting a more liberal federal policy.

Every banking institution still closed will be included in the survey.

Inquiries Certain.

Mr. Roosevelt's opposition to the McLeod bill, as now written, is based upon his belief that certain inequalities would occur in its operation. He believes that the present policy of extending bank relief through the RFC's purchase of assets and making loans is preferable. He concedes that perhaps the present plan may have

Strike Settled At Auto Factory

(International News Service)

KENOSHA, Wis., April 18.—Production was resumed today in all plants of the Nash Motors company following settlement of a strike that lasted seven weeks.

Immediate employment was given to 4,700 men.

The strike settlement, reached with the National Automobile Labor board sitting in, gave employees a wage increase of about 10 per cent and a minimum wage rate of 50 cents an hour.

Minority Members Of Committee Would Call Several Other Witnesses

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, April 18.—A report by a majority of the house investigating committee declaring Dr. William A. Wirt, Gary educator, had failed to prove his charges of plans within the administration to overthrow the established social order, was forecast today.

The Democratic majority on the committee was prepared to declare the inquiry ended, after having heard Dr. Wirt's story of a dinner party held last September in Virginia and the version of six others who attended the dinner.

Rep. McGugin (R) of Kansas, a majority member, planned to insist that the committee call other witnesses, including high administration officials.

Meeting Today

A meeting of the committee, of which Rep. Bulwinkle (D) of North Carolina is chairman, was called for today. McGugin's demand was expected to be denied.

Mail Deliveries On Normal Basis Here Once More

Last Half-Holiday Taken By Postmen Tuesday—Is Welcome News

SERVICE CUT PLAN CHANGED BY FARLEY

New Castle homes and business houses will suffer no more curtailments in their mail delivery service as a result of Acting Postmaster Richard A. Steen's prompt cancellation of an original schedule whereby the postoffice, under Postmaster General James A. Farley's economy order, would have played its part in the nation-wide service reduction plan.

Farley revoked the order Monday, as his statement said, business has shown a considerable increase and would not justify the continuation of the service cut.

Farley's reversal of the order was expected to bring immediate relief to the post office department.

The clerical department at the office was almost back to its normal operations, although a few days more will pass before normalcy is reached. The window service here was not curtailed any.

Order Stirred Protest.

New Castle, along with other cities of its size, was far more fortunate than most large cities under the Farley economy plan inasmuch as it meant here only a half-holiday twice every month. In larger cities, reports say, the mail deliveries were cut in half for the entire week and in some instances window service was curtailed to a sharp degree.

Complaints, registered by business men and home owners, flooded the postoffice department immediately after the order took effect. Hundreds of substitute carriers protested vehemently against it. It threw them out of jobs.

Acting Postmaster Steen said that the five substitute carriers and two substitute clerks attached to the

DINNER LAST NIGHT CONCLUDES CAMPAIGN

Although the Y. W. C. A. membership campaign fell short of the goal of 1,000 which had been set it made a record that has never been reached since the first year's existence of the Young Women's Christian Association in New Castle.

At a dinner Tuesday evening the two weeks of campaign came to a close and the teams reported a total of 692 new and renewal memberships. As this report was not complete it is believed that the total will be well over 700.

Dr. Mildred Rogers, membership chairman, and Mrs. A. B. Fankhauser, president of the board of directors, expressed their great satisfaction with the report, and brought to the attention of the assembled 55 workers that despite the fact that the citizens are in the midst of economic difficulties the support of the Y. W. C. A. this year is stronger

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, April 18.—President Roosevelt is opposed to the McLeod bill, providing for a government pay-off to depositors in closed member banks of the federal reserve system, but he recognizes that something further should be done for the relief of hard-hit depositors.

This was disclosed officially at the White House today, along with the announcement that Mr. Roosevelt has instructed officials of the RFC, the comptroller of the currency, and the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, to make a wide survey of banks still closed, with a view to adopting a more liberal federal picture.

Foran, a movie crooner, will arrive today to fulfill an engagement opposite Miss Faye in her next Fox Picture.

Every banking institution still closed will be included in the survey.

Inequities Certain.

Mr. Roosevelt's opposition to the McLeod bill, as now written, is based upon his belief that certain inequities would occur in its operation. He believes that the present policy of extending bank relief through the RFC's purchase of assets and making loans is preferable. He concedes that perhaps the present policy has

Minority Members Of Committee Would Call Several Other Witnesses

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Apr. 18.—A report by a majority of the house investigating committee declaring Dr. William A. Wirt, Gary educator, had failed to prove his charges of plans within the administration to overthrow the established social order, was forecast today.

The Democratic majority on the committee was prepared to declare the inquiry ended, after having heard Dr. Wirt's story of a dinner party held last September in Virginia and the version of six others who attended the dinner.

Rep. McGugin (R) of Kansas, a majority member, planned to insist that the committee call other witnesses, including high administration officials.

Meeting Today

A meeting of the committee, of which Rep. Bulwinkle (D) of North Carolina, is chairman, was called for today. McGugin's demand was expected to be denied.

The inquiry into the conversation held after a dinner at the home of Miss Alice Barrows, bureau of education specialist, last September, left a trail of partisan bitterness in its wake.

Last Half-Holiday Taken By Postmen Tuesday—Is Welcome News

SERVICE CUT PLAN CHANGED BY FARLEY

New Castle homes and business houses will suffer no more curtailment in their mail delivery service as a result of Acting Postmaster Richard A. Steen's prompt cancellation of an original schedule whereby the postoffice, under Postmaster General James A. Farley's economy order, would have played its part in the nation-wide service reduction plan.

The inquiry into the conversation held after a dinner at the home of Miss Alice Barrows, bureau of education specialist, last September, left a trail of partisan bitterness in its wake.

Farley revoked the order Monday, as his statement said, business has shown a considerable increase and would not justify the continuation of the service cut.

Mail Holidays Over.

New Castle had its last—it was the fourth—half-holiday so far as letter delivery service is concerned, on Tuesday. Four more had been contemplated before the order was revoked.

TWO WOMEN AND TWO MEN VICTIMS

(International News Service)
DALLAS, Texas, April 18.—Bodies of four persons, two of them women, today were removed from the burned wreckage of a cabin plane that plunged to earth during a storm 20 miles north-west of here late last night.

Bodies of Harry Fowler, pilot, his fiancee, Lillian Rose, and their friends, Jack Poole and an unidentified woman, all of Dallas, were being taken over muddy and almost impassable roads this morning to Lewisville to await removal to Dallas.

Taking off from Love Field, Dallas, last night the plane ran into a thunder storm 10 miles south-west of Lewisville, and is believed to have been hit by lightning.

Farmers living near it fell said there was a flash, heavy crash of thunder and the plane was seen falling in flames. It continued to blaze after it hit the ground. The bodies of the passengers were badly burned.

these contracts without giving the companies an opportunity for hearing deprives them of their property rights without due process of law in violation of the fifth amendment to the constitution.

Say Law Was Observed

The bills of complaint set forth that all of the air mail contracts obtained by the four complainants were awarded to them in accordance with law and as a result of open competitive bidding. These contracts were made from one to five years prior to the meeting which Farley claims resulted in a combination to prevent bidding on air mail contracts.

Complaints said that in accordance with the provisions of the Waters Act these original air mail contracts were exchanged for route certificates duly issued by the post office department. The Waters Act, it was further stated, specifically authorized such an exchange without competitive bidding.

The route certificates were in form prescribed by the post office department and conferred upon each of the companies the right to carry the mails over the respective routes for a period of approximately 10 years from the date of the commencement of operation under the original contract, the complainants stated.

sentiment in congress for amelioration of the British debt, in view of the fact that Britain made the first settlement agreement, and at stiffer terms than the other debtors. This sentiment, however, has been largely dissipated in the past year, beginning with Britain's "loket" payment of last June, which was followed by another and smaller token payment in December.

United States Paying Bill
It was quickly pointed out in congressional quarters today that Britain can well afford to make the payment due next June. The British treasury has closed its fiscal year with a surplus of about $200 million dollars, as against the $8 millions due the United States. At the same time, the chancellor of the Exchequer informed the house of commons of a reduction in British taxes.

Drawing the parallel, members of congress pointed out that the United States is raising taxes and faces the largest budgetary deficit in history. Under the circumstances congress feels that default at this time and under such conditions comes in particularly bad grace.

There is due the United States on June 15 a total of $174,647,439, principal and interest, from the following countries: Great Britain, $65,670,765; France, $59,000,218; Italy, $14,741,583; Belgium, $7,159,452; Poland, $4,039,039; Czechoslovakia, $1,682,812; Rumania, $1,249,750; Estonia, $322,850; Finland, $165,538; Hungary, $32,669; Latvia, $134,883; Lithuania, $147,884; Yugoslavia, $300,000.

Action Challenged
London, April 18.—Omission from the British budget for 1934 of provision for debt payments to the United States was sharply challenged in the House of Commons today.

Opening debate on the budget, announced yesterday by Chancellor of the Exchequer Neville Chamberlain, Morgan Jones, labor member, asked bluntly if the omission "implies repudiation".

"Existence of a surplus," Jones declared, "will not be known only to the American government. It will be known also to the American public. They will want an adequate reason why payments were not resumed, seeing there is a surplus."

DR. WIRT PROBES TO MAKE REPORT OF INVESTIGATION

sailed Dr. Wirt's statement of the conversation as false—as did the six other guests who were accused—McGugin asserted that the Democratic majority was unfair.

Reports that the committee would ask the federal district attorney to prosecute Dr. Wirt for perjury were flatly denied by Chairman Bulwinkle and Rep. O'Connor (D) of New York. Both said they would fight any committee report to this effect.

No Need Of Going Further
"I don't see any need of going further," said O'Connor. "My advice to Dr. Wirt is to stay away from New York because somebody might sell him the Brooklyn bridge."

McGugin wanted the committee to call Assistant Secretary of Agriculture Rexford Tugwell, Secretary of Interior Ickes, Federal Relief Administrator Harry L. Hopkins, Consumers' Adviser Frederic Howe, directors of the Tennessee Valley authority and W. L. Westervelt.

"Whatever may be said of the Wirt hearing it has brought another issue—it is: Can any American citizen appear before a committee without being slandered?" said McGugin.

The six persons named by Dr. Wirt were confident that they would be exonerated in the committee report. They were Miss Barrows, Miss Hildegarde Kneeland, agriculture department; Miss Mary Taylor, farm administration; Robert Bruere, cotton textile code industrial relations board; Laurence Todd, correspondent of the Soviet Union News Agency "Tass"; and David Cushman Coyle, consultant of the WPA.

All denied to the committee yesterday that plans to overthrow the social order were discussed at the dinner attended by Dr. Wirt.

"People are simply not drinking as they once did."

The board denied it has experienced any difficulty with distillers because of slow or non-payment of obligations. Its statement said:

"The board has already paid liquor bills in excess of $7,000,000 and it will continue to pay bills as liquor is sold, and for the first three months shows a net profit of $1,250,000."

"The statement that the board has sought the aid of bankers to enable it to meet its obligations is without any foundation of fact."

not been liberal enough, and to that end has ordered the re-examination of the institutions still closed.

Recently the president said, in speaking of the McLeod bill, that he and his family had lost money in other bank failures as far back as the turn of the century, and facetiously suggested that perhaps the McLeod bill might be extended to include recovery for these losses.

Mitchell Palmer, attorney general in the Wilson administration, presented Mr. Roosevelt at yesterday's conference with a plea that the government had a moral obligation in rescuing depositors. He pointed out that the government not only had encouraged placing money in the banks in its anti-hoarding campaign, but also had knowingly permitted some banks to remain open and accept deposits at a time when their condition did not warrant.

To this, Mr. Roosevelt is understood to have responded that this policy did not impair the assets of the banks.

The team captained by Mrs. Harry Reynolds, co-captained by Mrs. L. C. Mantz and with Mrs. Sherman Kitson, Mrs. Herbert Kirk, Jr., Miss Eleanor Magill, Mrs. W. R. Hanna, Mrs. Earl Ruby, Mrs. Harry McCurdy, Miss Georgianna McNeese, Mrs. M. L. Wallace and Mrs. Bart Richards as members, reported the record number of memberships and to this number was added five members and $5 received at the Y. W. C. A. business office.

Dr. Mildred Rogers presided throughout the meeting. She introduced to the workers Mrs. Elder Bryan, who in turn introduced the members of the Italian Mothers' club who were responsible for the preparation and serving of a delicious spaghetti dinner. A vocal solo was rendered by Miss Elizabeth Little, president of the Square Circle, Italian business girls' club of the Y. W. C. A., who was accompanied on the piano by Miss Helen Fisco.

After the campaign reports remarks were given by the various captains and a closing talk was given by Mrs. A. B. Fankhauser, thanking the women for their interest and work.

It was a happy occasion and marked the conclusion of the most successful membership campaign ever conducted by the New Castle Y. W. C. A.

McGugin wanted the committee to call Assistant Secretary of Agriculture Rutherford Tugwell, Secretary of Interior Ickes, Federal Relief Administrator Harry L. Hopkins, Consumers Adviser Frederic Howe, directors of the Tennessee Valley authority and W. I. Westerby.

"Whatever may be said of the Wirt hearing it has brought another issue—it is: Can any American citizen appear before a committee without being slandered?" said McGugin.

The six persons named by Dr. Wirt were confident that they would be exonerated in the committee report. They were Miss Barrows, Miss Hildegard Kneeland, agriculture department; Miss Mary Taylor, farm administration; Robert Bruere, cotton textile code industry relations board; Laurence Todd, correspondent of the Soviet Union News Agency "Tass," and David Cushman Coyle, consultant of the PWA.

All denied to the committee yesterday that plans to overthrow the social order were discussed at the dinner attended by Dr. Wirt.

'PEOPLE ARE NOT DRINKING AS THEY FORMERLY DID'

Inhibition seems to have had a marked effect upon the public demand for liquor.

"People are simply not drinking as they once did."

The board denied it has experienced any difficulty with distillers because of slow or non-payment of obligations. Its statement said:

"The board has already paid liquor bills in excess of $7,000,000, and it will continue to pay its bills as liquor is sold, and for the first three months shows a net profit of $1,250,000."

A. Mitchell Palmer, attorney general in the Wilson administration, presented Mr. Roosevelt at yesterday's conference with a plan that the government had a moral obligation in rescuing depositors. He pointed out that the government not only had encouraged placing money in the banks in its anti-boiling campaign, but also had knowingly permitted some banks to remain open and accept deposits at a time when their condition did not warrant.

To this, Mr. Roosevelt is understood to have responded that this policy did not impair the assets of the banks.

He is survived by his mother, a wife, Mrs. Arville Ward, and two children, Edith and Harold, Jr.

FOUR MEET DEATH IN TEXAS PLANE CRASH

Intense Flames Balk Rescuers

Tragic Crash Near Dallas, Texas, Occurs During Big Electrical Storm

TWO WOMEN AND TWO MEN VICTIMS

(International News Service)
DALLAS, Texas, April 18.—
Bodies of four persons, two of them women, today were removed from the burned wreckage of a cabin plane that plunged to earth during a storm 20 miles north-west of here late last night.

Bodies of Harry Fowler, pilot, his fiancee, Lillian Rose, and their friends, Jack Pool and an unidentified woman, all of Dallas, were being taken over muddy and almost impassable roads this morning to Lewisville to await removal to Dallas.

Taking off from Love Field, Dallas, last night the plane ran into a thunder storm 10 miles south-west of Lewisville and is believed to have been hit by lightning.

Farmers living near where it fell said there was a flash, heavy crash of thunder and the plane was seen falling in flames. It continued to blaze after it hit the ground. The bodies of the passengers were badly burned.

FOUR AIR MAIL COMPANIES FILE SUITS IN COURT

these contracts without giving the companies an opportunity for hearing deprives them of their property rights without due process of law in violation of the fifth amendment to the constitution.

Say Law Was Observed

The bills of complaint set forth that all of the air mail contracts obtained by the four complainants were awarded to them in accordance with law and as a result of open competitive bidding. These contracts were made from one to five years prior to the meeting which Farley claims resulted in a combination to prevent bidding on air mail contracts.

Complaints said that in accordance with the provisions of the Waters Act these original air mail contracts were exchanged for route certificates duly issued by the post office department. The Waters Act, it was further stated, specifically authorized such an exchange without competitive bidding.

The route certificates were in form prescribed by the post office department and conferred upon each of the companies the right to carry the mails over the respective routes for a period of approximately 10 years from the date of the commencement of operation under the original contract, the complainants stated.

GREAT BRITAIN'S ACTION FORCING DEBT SITUATION

sentiment in congress for amelioration of the British debt, in view of the fact that Britain made the first settlement agreement, and at stiffer terms than the other debtors. This sentiment, however, has been largely dissipated in the past year, beginning with Britain's "token" payment of last June, which was followed by another and smaller token payment in August.

United States Paying Bill

It was quickly pointed out in congressional quarters today that the United States can well afford to make the payment due next June. The British treasury has closed its fiscal year with a surplus of about 200 million dollars, as against the 85 million due the United States. At the same time, the chancellor of the Exchequer informed the house of commons of a reduction in British taxes in particular had grace.

Drawing the parallel, members of congress pointed out that the United States is raising taxes, and faces the largest budgetary deficit in history. Under the circumstances congress feels that default at this time and under such conditions comes in particularly bad grace.

There is due the United States on June 15 a total of $174,647,439, principal and interest, from the following countries: Great Britain, $85,670,765; France, $59,000,218;
Italy, $14,741,593; Belgium, $7,159,- 453; Poland, $4,039,038; Czechoslovakia, $1,682,812; Romania, $1,- 248,750; Estonia, $322,850; Finland,
$166,538; Hungary, $32,669; Latvia,
$134,883; Lithuania, $147,864; Yugoslavia, $300,000.

Action Challenged

London, April 18.—Omission from the British budget for 1934 of provision for debt payments to the United States was sharply challenged in the House of Commons today.

Opening debate on the budget, announced yesterday by Chancellor of the Exchequer Neville Chamberlain, Morgan Jones, labor member, asked bluntly if the omission "implies repudiation".

"Existence of a surplus," Jones declared, "will not be known only to the American government. It will be known also to the American public.
They will want an adequate reason why payments were not resumed, seeing there is a surplus."

MAIL DELIVERIES ON NORMAL BASIS HERE ONCE MORE

postoffice here will be returned to jobs. With that announcement came word from Washington that congress is now enacting legislation to establish a minimum amount of hours for the substitutes' employment.

Word today said that the senate approved the substitutes' bill which set 100 hours as the minimum amount of hours for them a month.
It was expected to be approved in the house.

DR. WIRT PROBERS TO MAKE REPORT OF INVESTIGATION

sailed Dr. Wirt's statement of the conversation as false—as did the six other guests who were accused—McGugin asserted that the Democratic majority was unfair.

Reports that the committee would ask the federal district attorney to prosecute Dr. Wirt for perjury were flouted by Chairman Bulwinkle and Rep. O'Connor (D) of New York.
Both said they would fight any committee report to this effect.

No Need Of Going Further

"I don't see any need of going further," said O'Connor. "My advice to Dr. Wirt is to stay away from New York because somebody might sell him the Brooklyn bridge."

McGugin wanted the committee to call Assistant Secretary of Agriculture Rexford Tugwell, Secretary of Interior Ickes, Federal Relief Administrator Harry L. Hopkins, Consumers Adviser Frederic Howe,
directors of the Tennessee Valley Authority and W. I. Westervelt.

"Whatever may be said of the Wirt hearing it has brought another issue—it is: Can any American citizen appear before a committee without being slandered?" said McGugin.

The six persons named by Dr.
Wirt were confident that they would be exonerated in the committee report. They were Miss Barrows, Miss Hildegarde Kneeland, agriculture department; Miss Mary Taylor, farm administration; Robert Bruere, cotton textile code industrial relations board; Laurence Todd, correspondent of the Soviet Union News Agency "Tass," and David Cushman Coyle, consultant of the PWA.

All denied to the committee yesterday that plans to overthrow the social order were discussed at the dinner attended by Dr. Wirt.

FORMERLY DID

hibition seems to have had a marked effect upon the public demand for liquor.

"People are simply not drinking as they once did."

The board denied it has experienced any difficulty with distillers because of slow or non-payment of obligations. Its statement said:

"The board has already paid liquor bills in excess of $7,000,000, and it will continue to pay its bills as liquor is sold, and for the first three months shows a net profit of $15,000.

"The statement that the board has sought the aid of bankers to enable it to meet its obligations is without any foundation of fact."

PRESIDENT WOULD

not been liberal enough, and to that end has ordered the re-examination of the institutions still closed.

Recently the president said, in speaking of the McLeod bill, that he and his family had lost money in other bank failures as far back as the turn of the century, and facet-iously suggested that perhaps the McLeod bill might be extended to include recovery for these losses.

A. Mitchell Palmer, attorney general in the Wilson administration, presented Mr. Roosevelt at yesterday's conference with a plea that the government had a moral obligation in rescuing depositors. He pointed out that the government not only had encouraged placing money in the banks in its anti-hoarding campaign, but also had knowingly permitted some banks to remain open and accept deposits at a time when their condition did not warrant.

To this, Mr. Roosevelt is understood to have responded that this policy did not impair the assets of the banks.

ANNUAL MEETING OF STATE FEDERATION

MRS. A. T. ECKLES WINS DAUGHTERS 1812 PRIZE

The several local club women who attended the annual meeting of the southwestern district, Federation of Women's Clubs, which was held in Pittsburgh yesterday, returned imbued with enthusiasm for accomplishing much important work for the coming year.

Highlights of the morning session was the ratification by the executive board of the nomination of Mrs. John M. Phillips of Pittsburgh for president of the state federation and the nomination of Mrs. H. D. Stark and Mrs. Richard B. Perry for the office of president of the southwestern district, these to be voted upon at the annual meeting to be held in Harrisburg in October.

After the board meeting the morning's program consisted of short talks on topics of interest, including the school of family relationships, education, better films, the pilgrimage to Washington in May and club institutes on public welfare.

Mrs. S. D. Pearson of Moody avenue spoke on the topic "Spreading the Gospel of the Backyard".

An invitation was extended to the entire district to attend an outing to be held at Idlewild Park June 20, when the Westmoreland Federation proposes to plant a row of elms.

The address by Mrs. R. J. Hamilton, federation president, was extremely interesting, in that she drew a parallel between county roads and federation direction.

When a motor trip is proposed, one consults an auto club, authority for good roads, she stated. So the individual clubs should rely upon the lines of action laid out by the state federation and follow the "roads" it has designated.

Several hundred women from the district were present and a luncheon at noon in the ballroom of the William Penn Hotel, where the meeting was held, was an additional pleasure.

Announce Engagement

ANNUAL MEETING OF STATE FEDERATION

MRS. A. T. ECKLES WINS DAUGHTERS 1812 PRIZE

The several local club women who attended the annual meeting of the southwestern district, Federation of Women's Clubs, which was held in Pittsburgh yesterday, returned imbued with enthusiasm for accomplishing much important work for the coming year.

Highlights of the morning session was the ratification by the executive board of the nomination of Mrs. John M. Phillips of Pittsburgh for president of the state federation and the nomination of Mrs. R. D. Stark and Mrs. Richard B. Ferry for the office of president of the southwestern district; these to be voted upon at the annual meeting to be held in Harrisburg in October.

After the board meeting the morning's program consisted of short talks on topics of interest, including the school of family relationships, education, better films, the pilgrimage to Washington in May and club institutes on public welfare work.

Mrs. S. D. Pearson of Moody avenue spoke on the topic, "Spreading the Gospel of the Backyard".

An invitation was extended to the entire district to attend an outing to be held at Idlewild Park June 30, when the Westmoreland Federation proposes to plant a row of elms.

The address by Mrs. R. J. Hamilton, federation president, was extremely interesting, in that she drew a parallel between county roads and federation direction.

When a motor trip is proposed, one consults an auto club, authority for good roads, she stated. So the individual clubs should rely upon the lines of action laid out by the state federation and follow the "roads" it has designated.

Several hundred women from the district were present and a luncheon at noon in the ballroom of the William Penn Hotel, where the meeting was held, was an additional pleasure.

RIGHTING A POSTAL SERVICE WRONG

POSTMASTER General Farley has made a surrender to public sentiment in announcing the revocation of payless furloughs and the ill-advised curtailment of the postal service which began in March.

Resumption of normal service on the first of May is based upon the statement that business has increased to such an extent that it is no longer necessary to overwork clerks and carriers. By restoring the deliveries to which the patrons of the office are entitled additional employment will be provided for the harshly treated substitutes.

It is to be regretted that the Postmaster General, canceling his injurious program, does not admit frankly that he made a blunder in this matter, just as in his hasty and deplorable cancellation of the a-mail contracts.

Farley's attempt to justify his latest attitude on the score of a notable improvement in business will be accepted with reservations. His mistake was in cutting down the service and adding to the burdens of the postal employees at the very time the Government was calling upon private business to decrease the hours and increase the pay of its workers.

Mr. Farley's revocation of payless furloughs is certainly proper, since they never should have been declared.

HOW ABOUT DUNNING THEM AGAIN?

Senator Lewis of Illinois in a speech in the Senate the other day charged that Great Britain, France and Italy were apparently in a conspiracy to avoid paying their debt obligations to the United States, and he demanded a firm policy on the part of the United States to enforce payment. He declared that British statesmen were advocating a policy of default, and that similar suggestions were coming from French statesmen, while Italy was showing signs of wanting to get in line for a tripartite adjustment of debts with Uncle Sam, of course, on the losing end.

At this juncture Senator Borah made the very pertinent remark that the United States government had encouraged the debtor nations to default stating: "We have done nothing to make these countries think we expect them to pay."

All of which is exactly true. What steps, if any, have been taken toward applying pressure for the payments of these debts? Not only has nothing been done along that line, but it is now suggested that we dicker with European nations on "international trade" promising them juicy American markets in exchange for their promise to take some of America's surplus products. The final result will be, of course, more whelching on the part of Europe and more red-hot poker-ends for Uncle Sam.

As long as we continue to look like a perennial easy mark, we will get no satisfactory debt settlement with Europe.

MORGENTHAU ON CLOSED BANKS

Because Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau has stated objections to legislation to release millions of dollars now tied up in closed banks, it does not follow that the Administration is unsympathetic to the needs of thousands of depositors. On the contrary, the President and his associates appear to have the deepest sympathy for those whose money—in many cases all they possess—is thus frozen.

There are regrettable, but financially sound, reasons why the Administration feels it would be unwise to obey a natural humanitarian impulse by approving such proposals as the bill sponsored by Senator Thomas. His plan is to free the deposits frozen in national banks and State member bank of the Federal Reserve System by directing the Reconstruction Finance Corporation to purchase all their remaining assets, which would be liquidated gradually by the corporation.

Secretary Morgenthau points out that since nearly half of the money thus distributed would be received by only about four per cent. of the depositors, "there is the gravest doubt whether recovery would be materially assisted by the plan proposed." The gains would also be minimized by the administrative and legal difficulties which would ensue. Furthermore, points out the Philadelphia Inquirer, the plan would establish an unwise precedent that might be extended to losses in any business activity, including trading in stocks and bonds, if in future the Government exercised any supervision.

Finally, it is estimated that from $1,250,000,000 to $2,500,000,000 would be added to the burden of the taxpayers, offsetting in part the benefits they might receive from the legislation.

ADVANCING SCHOOLING AGE

There may be wailing and moaning upon the part of some school children when they learn that Superintendent James N. Rule, of the State Department of Public Instruction, foresees the time, possibly within the next ten years, when the period for formal schooling will be extended to the age of 18 years. And some educators predict the school age will be advanced to 20 years.

The reason for Dr. Rule's prediction is a "rising tide of youth, fairly flooding our schools." The change will be made not necessarily by law, he believes, but by economic and social necessity. It is a fact that the readjustment which we are being compelled to make by conditions probably will result in youth having more time on their hands, and it could not be spent in a better way than by acquiring more of the education which will prepare them to meet the changed conditions.

It may not be too soon to begin assigning "weeks" of various kinds for 1934.

All Of Us

By MARSHALL MASLIN

AN INSTANT

Everybody says that time flies. And so it does. But in one minute or even less than 60 seconds the entire course of your life may change. You may meet a friend, may meet an enemy, may meet the one you will love till the last breath of life is drawn. In a minute anything may happen. . . . You may, in a minute, review the movement, drama, comedy or tragedy of all your years. You may decide to die, may decide to live.

You may make a minute the meanest harshest, most dreadful, most bitter experience you have ever known. . . . Or you may, such is the alchemy of the stream of time in which we live, make any minute the most joyous, most magical, most glamorous, most memorable of all instants that have ever come to us.

At each second of life, we stand on a peak that stretches away in every direction. . . . We stand there and look back to agony or to beauty, to childhood, youth and manhood or womanhood. The years just behind us slope gradually to our feet. The years ahead drift downward before us if our hearts are pessimistic this day; they rise grandly, challenging, if we dream of mightier endeavors.

But here we stand on this small peak, in this slight interval of time, and waste the opportunity that is given to us or make fair use of it. . . . Years from now you may look back and say of one instant that you were brave, or cowardly, or negligent, or dull, or cruel, or kind, or stupid. . . . And out of all the moments of actions or decisions you make up the self that is you. You do not know, you can never know, whether this self that is you was born as it is today and you have spent all your years in its unfolding. Or whether it was born waiting and you have spent the years in the creation of your own self that stands on this small peak of time today. . . . But you must know that if a lie is important, then so is every year and every day and every hour and every little minute of the day—and even the most unregarded minute may be a seed from which a towering future will spring and reach the heavens.

A timid old woman pushed open a door.

For lost in the building was she. And the person she anxiously questioned for seemed nowhere about to be.

Disturbed by her coming, a man arose.

But he smiled as he heard her say:

I suppose they haven't a minute to spare

Come, follow along with me

And I'll take you straight to the very door

"You're the thoughtfulest man of them all," said she.

Mr. Farley's revocation of payless furloughs is certainly proper, since they never should have been declared.

HOW ABOUT DUNNING THEM AGAIN?

Senator Lewis of Illinois in a speech in the Senate the other day charged that Great Britain, France and Italy were apparently in a conspiracy to avoid paying their debt obligations to the United States, and he demanded a firm policy on the part of the United States to enforce payment. He declared that British statesmen were advocating a policy of default, and that similar suggestions were coming from French statesmen, while Italy was showing signs of wanting to get in line for a tripartite adjustment of debts with Uncle Sam, of course, on the losing end.

At this juncture Senator Borah made the very pertinent remark that the United States government had encouraged the debtor nations to default stating: "We have done nothing to make these countries think we expect them to pay."

All of which is exactly true. What steps, if any, have been taken toward applying pressure for the payments of these debts? Not only has nothing been done along that line, but it is now suggested that we dicker with European nations on "international trade" promising them juicy American markets in exchange for their promise to take some of America's surplus products. The final result will be, of course, more Welching on the part of Europe and more red-hot poker-ends for Uncle Sam.

As long as we continue to look like a perennial easy mark, we will get no satisfactory debt settlement with Europe.

MORGENTHAU ON CLOSED BANKS

Because Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau has stated objections to legislation to release millions of dollars now tied up in closed banks, it does not follow that the Administration is unsympathetic to the needs of thousands of depositors. On the contrary, the President and his associates appear to have the deepest sympathy for those whose money—in many cases all they possess—is thus frozen.

There are regrettable, but financially sound, reasons why the Administration feels it would be unwise to obey a natural humanitarian impulse by approving such proposals as the bill sponsored by Senator Thomas. His plan is to free the deposits frozen in national banks and State member bank of the Federal Reserve System by directing the Reconstruction Finance Corporation to purchase all their remaining assets, which would be liquidated gradually by the corporation.

Secretary Morgenthau points out that since nearly half of the money thus distributed would be received by only about four per cent. of the depositors, "there is the gravest doubt whether recovery would be materially assisted by the plan proposed." The gains would also be minimized by the administrative and legal difficulties which would ensue. Furthermore, points out the Philadelphia Inquirer, the plan would establish an undue precedent that might be extended to losses in any business activity, including trading in stocks and bonds, if in future the Government exercised any supervision.

Finally, it is estimated that from $1,250,000,000 to $2,500,000,000 would be added to the burden of the taxpayers, offsetting in part the benefits they might receive from the legislation.

ADVANCING SCHOOLING AGE

There may be wailing and moaning upon the part of some school children when they learn that Superintendent James N. Rule, of the State Department of Public Instruction, foresees the time, possibly within the next ten years, when the period for formal schooling will be extended to the age of 18 years. And some educators predict the school age will be advanced to 20 years.

The reason for Dr. Rule's prediction is "a rising tide of youth, fairly flooding our schools." The change will be made not necessarily by law, he believes, but by economic and social necessity. It is a fact that the readjustment which we are being compelled to make by conditions probably will result in youth having more time on their hands, and it could not be spent in a better way than by acquiring more of the education which will prepare them to meet the changed conditions.

It may not be too soon to begin assigning "weeks" of various kinds for 1934.

In addition to flivvers, radio sets have attained high rank as farm equipment.

A "surplus" is any amount that can't be consumed by those who have surplus cash.

Another fault of the times is that you can't ride up and down Main street in a paid-up grocery bill.

The world is like a school. The smart lads can't go ahead until the dull ones review today's lesson.

The only sure thing about money theories is that the more plausible they sound the dumber they are.

You hear that college men aren't willing to begin at the bottom, but observe how many have educated toes.

For your shame ye shall have double; and for confusion they shall rejoice in their portion: therefore in their land they shall possess the double: everlasting joy shall be yourselves—Isaiah 61:7.

AN INSTANT

Everybody says that time flies. And so it does. But in one minute or even less than 60 seconds the entire course of your life may change. You may meet a friend, may meet an enemy, may meet the one you will love till the last breath of life is drawn. In a minute anything may happen... You may, in a minute, review the movement, drama, comedy or tragedy of all your years. You may decide to die, may decide to live.

You may make a minute the meanest harshest, most dreadful, most bitter experience you have ever known... Or you may, such is the alchemy of the stream of time in which we live, make any minute the most joyous, most magical, most glamorous, most memorable of all instants that have ever come to you.

At each second of life, we stand on a peak that stretches away in every direction... We stand there and look back to agony or to beauty, to childhood, youth and manhood or womanhood. The years just behind us slope gradually to our feet. The years ahead drift downward before us if our hearts are pessimistic this day; they rise grandly, challenging, if we dream of mightier endeavor.

Years from now you may look back and say of one instant that you were brave or cowardly, or negligent, or dull, or cruel, or kind, or stupid... And out of all the moments of actions or decisions you make up the self that is you. You do not know, you can never know, whether this self that is you was born as it is today and you have spent all your years in its unfolding. Or whether it was born waiting and you have spent the years in the creation of your own self that stands on this small peak of time today...

But you must know that if a lie is important, then so is every year and every day and every hour and every little minute of the day—and even the most unregarded minute may be a seed from which a towering future will spring and reach the heavens.

DON'T BOTHER WITH NON-ESSENTIALS

How long are you going to worry so much about little things that you are unfit to combat the important things?

Why allow yourself to become perturbed over matters which have little bearing upon your life.

Why keep yourself continually upset over conditions which should cause you little concern and would necessitate but little thought to overcome?

Perhaps you are in no condition to give undivided thought to anything—naturally your troubles multiply.

The more numerous they become the less you are able to master them.

Every person, every day, is confronted with knotty problems.

People to whom you delegate work will make errors.

The more persons to whom you are responsible, the more mistakes in a day.

It is very well to say errors should not be made but human beings cannot be perfect all the time.

You may make more errors than any individual under you but it is easier to see the other fellow's mistakes.

Don't forgive yourself too easily.

Disturbed by her coming, a man arose.

"But he smiled as he heard her say: "With so many doors that open and close, I'm afraid I have lost my way."

"They have sent me here and they've sent me there, And so busy they seem to be, I suppose they haven't a minute to spare

For a poor little body like me."

The man said: "Worry yourself no more,

Come, follow along with me

And I'll take you straight to the very door

(International News Service) DETROIT, April 18.—Three policemen, including Inspector William G. Rick, were attacked today by a mob of several hundred negroes of the cult of Islam in front of police headquarters.

Riot Protective John Mulligan and Traffic Officer Leroy Cariner were knocked down and stoned when police attempted to break up a parade where 16 leaders of the cult are being arraigned on charges of contributing to the delinquency of minors.

Rick was knocked to the pavement and beaten with a bucket before fellow officers could reach him. Mulligan and Cariner were struck with bricks and cut about the face.

The fight started after 100 of the paraders were herded into the police station by a squad of police. They are technically charged with parading without a permit.

The riot squads finally dispersed the other marchers.

New York State Governor Wins Victory On Public Utilities Control

(International News Service) ALBANY, April 18.—Gov. Herbert H. Lehman today had chalked up a smashing victory over the Republicans in assembly by forcing it to approve all but one of his bills giving the state stricter control over public utilities.

Previously the governor had cracked the party whip over the Democratic senate to compel that body to pass two of the key bills in his utility program.

The assembly today was scheduled to adopt a resolution providing for a sweeping investigation of utilities, lobbyists and the short selling of utility stocks.

The Governor Says

What Is Going On In Harrisburg—And Why

By GIFFORD PINCHOT
Governor of Pennsylvania

May 1st will be celebrated throughout the United States as Child Health Day.

I want to urge every father and mother in Pennsylvania to take stock of their children's health on May Day.

A stock-taking of our children's health is a stock-taking of our most valuable asset.

The depression took a heavier toll from the children of Pennsylvania than we have any idea. The effects of malnutrition of children, which means starving of children, mean a weaker race for generations.

Now that recovery is in the air, let us all do our best to undo all the harm that was done to many thousands of our children by the heavy hand of hard times.

Unemployment and want have been spread pretty widely throughout Pennsylvania. That means that undernourishment of children and lack of proper care and medical attention are wide-spread.

It is bad enough that our children, innocent victims of the failure of our civilization to function as it ought, should have suffered so much harm. But it is even worse that the harm may last all through their lives if we don't act now.

Malnutrition in youth means a system that is not strong enough to fight off the ravages of disease in later years. And it may mean trouble, too, for the next generation. It is gratifying to know that the infant death rate has dropped below the mark of the preceding year. Nevertheless, we lost more than 8,000 babies, hundreds of whom might have been saved if even a small fraction of our present knowledge had been applied to their care before, during and after birth.

Tuberculosis, dreaded scourge of both adults and children, is decreasing, for which we may be thankful. But this is a menace to which both children and grown persons suffering from undernourishment are particularly susceptible. And, unless we are ever on guard, the white plague may find us unprepared and exact a heavy toll.

Out of the records of illness and death of the past year the fact stands out that diphtheria is on the retreat again, after an increase the year before. That is good news. But every child in the Commonwealth should be protected from this disease insofar as we know how. In five counties in the twelve month period there was not a single case of diphtheria. Other counties can do the same.

In eleven towns of more than 10,000 population there was not a single case of diphtheria. Other towns can do as well.

Mesmerized and whooping cough are also on the decrease.

But scrofulous fever deaths continue to increase. There has been a steady increase since 1930. We will have to call the doctor quicker and enforce the quarantine measures more strictly if we are going to win in the fight against scrofulous fever.

Another piece of bad news in Pennsylvania's health record is the loss of 781 mothers last year. More than two-thirds of these lives could have been saved if our present knowledge of ways and means of avoiding the dangers of maternity had been applied.

These are some of the facts that ought to be brought home to every Pennsylvania parent on National Child Health Day on May 1.

United action to make and keep our children healthy will mean more to Pennsylvania and the Nation than we can possibly imagine.

Now that recovery is in the air, let us all do our level best to undo all the harm that was done to many thousands of our children by the heavy hand of hard times.

Unemployment and want have been spread pretty widely throughout Pennsylvania. That means that undernourishment of children and lack of proper care and medical attention are wide-spread.

have been saved if even a small fraction of our present knowledge had been applied to their care before, and after birth.

Tuberculosis, dreaded scourge of both adults and children, is decreasing, for which we may be thankful. But this is a menace to which both children and grown persons suffering from undernourishment are particularly susceptible. And, unless we are ever on guard, the white plague may find us unprepared and exact a heavy toll.

Out of the records of illness and death of the past year the fact stands out that diphtheria is on the retreat again, after an increase the year before. That is good news. But every child in the Commonwealth should be protected from this disease insofar as we know how. In five counties in the twelve month period there was not a single case of diphtheria. Other counties can do the same. In eleven towns of more than 10,000 population there was not a single case of diphtheria. Other towns can do as well.

Measles and whooping cough are also on the decrease.

But scarlet fever deaths continue to increase. There has been a steady increase since 1930. We will have to call the doctor quicker and enforce the quarantine measures more strictly if we are going to win in the fight against scarlet fever.

Another piece of bad news in Pennsylvania's health record is the loss of 781 mothers last year. More than two-thirds of these lives could have been saved if our present knowledge of ways and means of avoiding the dangers of maternity had been applied.

These are some of the facts that ought to be brought home to every Pennsylvania parent on National Child Health Day on May 1.

United action to make and keep our children healthy will mean more to Pennsylvania and the Nation than we can possibly imagine.

Unemployment and want have been spread pretty widely throughout Pennsylvania. That means that undernourishment of children and lack of proper care and medical attention are wide-spread.

It is bad enough that our children, innocent victims of the failure of our civilization to function as it ought, should have suffered so much harm, too, for the next generation.

It is gratifying to know that the infant death rate has dropped below the mark of the preceding year. Nevertheless, we lost more than 8,000 babies, hundreds of whom might

Japanese Resent Military And Economic Aid To China By Foreign Nations

(International News Service)

TOKYO, April 18.—The virtually unprecedented and carefully labeled "unofficial" statement of the Japanese foreign office declaring Japan's opposition to the granting of military and certain economic aid to China by foreign powers today was regarded as a "trial balloon."

Whereas the foreign office ordinarily cautiously refrains from publicizing its viewpoint, the purpose of this unusual statement was believed to have been aimed at influencing the present Shanghai conversations between Huang Fu, high commissioner of the Nanking Nationalist government, and Akira Arayoshi, Japanese minister to China.

The "unofficial" document also was calculated to gauge the world's probable reaction to Japan's establishing herself as the sole "guardian of the peace" in the Orient.

Colonel Roosevelt Denounces Policy Of "New Dealers"

Stirring Denunciation Of Dissident Cousin For Militaristic Policies

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, April 18.—A stirring denunciation of the policies of the president, his distant cousin, was voiced by Col. Theodore Roosevelt, in his inaugural address as president of the National Republican club last night.

He said the Franklin D. Roosevelt regime has violated constitutional privileges. He compared the NRA to militaristic Prussianism. The policies of the new deal he characterized as "bullying," "bulldozing" and reactionary.

"If the so-called new deal prevails," he continued, "the hard-bought gains for liberalism and individual liberty are lost."

The Governor Says

What Is Going On
In Harrisburg—
And Why

By GIFFORD PINCHOT
Governor of Pennsylvania

May 1st will be celebrated throughout the United States as Child Health Day.

I want to urge every father and mother in Pennsylvania to take stock of their children's health on May Day.

A stock-taking of our children's health is a stock-taking of our most valuable asset.

The depression took a heavier toll from the children of Pennsylvania than we have any idea. The effects of malnutrition of children, which means starving of children, mean a weaker race for generations.

Now that recovery is in the air, let us all do our level best to undo all the harm that was done to many thousands of our children by the heavy hand of hard times.

Unemployment and want have been spread pretty widely throughout Pennsylvania. That means that undernourishment of children and lack of proper care and medical attention are wide-spread.

It is bad enough that our children, innocent victims of the failure of our civilization to function as it ought, should have suffered so much harm. But it is even worse that the harm may last all through their lives if we don't act now.

Malnutrition in youth means a system that is not strong enough to fight off the ravages of disease in later years. And it may mean trouble, too, for the next generation.

It is gratifying to know that the infant death rate has dropped below the mark of the preceding year. Nevertheless, we lost more than 8,000 babies, hundreds of whom might

Great Britain Does Not Plan Debt Payment

Budget For Ensuing Year Does Not Contain Provision For Paying U.

S. Debt

(International News Service) LONDON, April 18.—Presenting the most encouraging picture of British government finances any chancellor has drawn in years, Chancellor of the Exchequer Neville Chamberlain nevertheless told parliament Tuesday that the budget for the ensuing fiscal year would make no provision for any payment of debts to the United States.

Chamberlain told a house of commons that radiated cheerfulness that Great Britain's real surplus for the past fiscal year was £39,000,000 pounds, or approximately $201,240,000 at current rates of exchange. The actual figure at the end of the year, he said, was £31,147,860 pounds, or about $160,000,000, but interest on the government's sinking fund had been paid out of the real surplus.

Debt Is Enormous

Great Britain's annual payments due the United States under the Baldwin debt funding agreement amount to approximately $150,000,000 per year.

Great Britain's total ordinary expenditures for 1934 were estimated by Chamberlain at £98,124,000.

Great Britain Does Not Plan Debt Payment

Budget For Ensuing Year Does Not Contain Provision For Paying U. S. Debt

(International News Service) LONDON, April 18.—Presenting the most encouraging picture of British government finances any chancellor has drawn in years. Chancellor of the Exchequer Neville Chamberlain nevertheless told parliament Tuesday that the budget for the ensuing fiscal year would make no provision for any payment of debts to the United States.

Chamberlain told a house of commons that radiated cheerfulness that Great Britain's real surplus for the past fiscal year was 39,000,000 pounds, or approximately $201,240,000 at current rates of exchange. The actual figure at the end of the year, he said, was 31,147,860 pounds, or about $160,000,000 but interest on the government's sinking fund had been paid out of the real surplus.

Debt Is Enormous
Great Britain's annual payments due the United States under the Baldwin debt funding agreement amount to approximately $150,000,000 per year.

Great Britain's total ordinary expenditures for 1934 were estimated by Chamberlain at 698,124,000 pounds, or about $3,600,000,000. This is 638,000 pounds above the 1933 figure.

"Neither last year nor the year before," Chamberlain said as the house cheered, "did I make any provision for payment of our war debt to America nor for the receipt of war debts or reparations by ourselves. In the absence of any further development I propose to follow precisely the same line this year."

Chamberlain said the budget would allocate 224,000,000 pounds, or about $1,15,000,000 for fixed debt charges. The chancellor did not mention any token payment to the United States, but if any such payment is made it will come from this fund.

State Officials Also Coming

In addition to the National Commander, National President Beister, of the Ladies Auxiliary, State Commander Otto Messner, State Co-President, Mrs. Bendel, State Adjutant James J. Deegan, and many other Legion officials of the state and district will be guests.

Commander Hayes was head of the Rehabilitation Department of the American Legion for several years prior to his election as commander, and naturally is much interested in legislation pertaining to veterans, which has occupied a great amount of his time this year.

While the date is a little later this year than in the past, it is expected to prove an advantage as it will enable many Legionnaires in the district to come here for the event, as traveling conditions will be better on the highways leading to this city.

Pottsville, Pa., Has $10,000 Fire, Theatre Is Threatened By Raging Flames

(International News Service) POTTSVILLE, Pa., April 18.—James Grace, 23, a night watchman, was suffocated early today in a fire that swept the Sheeler garage here and for a time menaced a large theater across the street. Loss was estimated at $10,000.

Grace's unconscious form was found curled up on the seat of an automobile at the rear of the garage. Because of the absence of burns, physicians said he was suffocated by fumes.

Declares Price Setting Ruinous

(International News Service) ERIE, Pa., April 18.—Declaring price setting is "ruinous and dictatorial," V. A. Stafford, Erie county milk producer, today disclosed plans to take action against the milk control board to permit him to sell a higher grade milk at a lower price. "I can produce the highest butterfat content to enable me to compete with the lowest grade, but am unable to find a market for higher price produce," Stafford said.

National Commander Edward A. Hayes, of the American Legion, will be the guest of the Perry S. Gaston Post of this city, and the posts of the surrounding district at the annual National Commander's banquet, to be held in the Cathedral May 12, it was announced today by Commander R. Loy Boyd of the Gaston Post.

A special meeting of the post has been called for this evening at 7:30, in the parlors of the Legion Home, when the preliminary details for the banquet will be worked out and committees appointed to take care of the arrangements.

Because of the press of business at Washington, which has occupied the attention of Commander Hayes since the first of the year, it was impossible to secure a date before May 12, and the post feels fortunate in These photos of Mrs. Samuel Insull, wife of the one-time head of a great utilities empire now destroyed, show interesting glimpses of life with Insull. She is shown as she looked when Insull courted her; as the great lady of Chicago society; as Lady Teazle in her revival of "The School for Scandal" indulging her greatest pleasure, that of acting; and finally as a broken woman, in Greece, hiding her face from the camera, during the trying days when her husband was seeking to outwit efforts of Greece to deport him and plotting to leave on board the tramp steamer Malotis.

Police automobiles travelled 2,650 miles in February and 2,158 in March. The motorcycle travelled 762 miles for February and 740 miles in March. In February police replied to 950 calls and in March, 974 calls.

The bandit chaser car, owned by the city is temporarily out of commission but in its stead is another machine. It is unlike the regular police car and no one would know whether or not it contained police unless they were recognized.

City council will session Friday at city hall and bids will be opened for a chassis and also a truck. If action is prompt and delivery is speeded up it is probable that the charge of the Tin Can brigade will get under way soon.

Owen Fox and a force of men are putting a plot of ground in good condition so it can be converted into a flower garden. The plot is at the corner of Liberty street and Madison avenue. The plot is being repaired at the request of the Garden club; it is said.

If there is one thing Lou McClung likes to do is fish, then fish some more but for two consecutive years his duties have been so difficult he has not had time to forsake the city treasury for one day. McClung goes on the job all the time so he can add the personal touch to business there.

The Narrows in the past has been one of the nicest drives in the city, hence the work being done there now. Cascade boulevard is also a splendid drive and when the ground becomes dry autoists will be able to travel miles amid natural beauty.

Four of the five women questioned and fingerprinted are relatives of the slain man. The identity of the fifth was closely guarded.

detectives continued checking leads in New York City in an effort to find the girl and two male companions whom the aged recluse entertained at the fatal party last Wednesday night.

On Court House Hill

County commissioners have been receiving calls recently from persons who are interested in securing old age pensions under a recent act. The commissioners wish it understood that they have nothing to do with receiving applications. They should be made through the Mothers' Assistance Fund board, of which Mrs. Elmer Crawford of Sheridan avenue is the secretary. Mrs. Crawford states that she has not received the blanks necessary on which to make applications, and will not likely have them until October or November of this year. Those who desire information regarding the old age pensions should call or see Mrs. Crawford and not the county commissioners.

Judge R. L. Hildebrand has set Friday, May 4, as the date for holding the next divorce court. All applications for divorce must be filed not later than Wednesday, April 24. Testimony will be taken by Judges Hildebrand and Chambers in separate court rooms.

County commissioners have been looking at sites for a new court house during the past few days, and measuring them up so that they will have the proper data before them when they decide upon a location. Among the sites looked at were the Martin Gantz property on North Jefferson, two other properties on the same street north of the diamond, one on South Jefferson street, one on South Mercer street, one on the diamond, one on East Washington street, and several others.

blood will tell —

ONE of the mysteries of life is how much care a man will take of thoroughbred animals—noting when they are "off" ... and toning them back to the "pink of condition" to increase their daily usefulness—yet will shamefully neglect his own run-down condition.

Certainly, there is a pardonable pride in an animal's healthy appearance... but human beings are more important than animals. Yet some people just hope when "run-down" that they will "come around."

It is just good "horse-sense" to reflect and reason that your so-called "tired feeling" may come from a lowered red-blood-cell count and the hemoglobin in these cells.

There is a remedy specially designed to bring back strength to weakened blood... and no one can be strong, healthy, happy, and full of vitality when in a run-down condition.

S.S.S. Blood Tonic is a time-tested remedy for restoring deficient red-blood-cells and a low hemoglobin count.

If you suspect an organic disease consult your physician... if you feel weak... lack a keen appetite... if your skin is pale and off-color... try S.S.S. as a part of your regular daily diet. Take it just before meals. Unless your case is exceptional, you should soon notice a pick-up in your appetite... your color and skin should improve with increased strength and energy.

S.S.S. is not just a so-called tonic but a tonic specially designed to stimulate gastric secretions, and also having the mineral elements so very necessary in rebuilding the oxygen-carrying hemoglobin of the blood to enable you to "carry on" without exhaustion as you should naturally.

S.S.S. value has been proven by generations of use, as well as by modern scientific appraisal. It is truly a blood and body tonic. You will find it at all drug stores in two convenient sizes... the larger size is more economical.

The S.S.S. Co.

BEAVER FALLS, Pa., April 18.—Enoch W. S. Engle, aged 73 years, well known and highly respected resident of Beaver and a former county commissioner, died last night following an illness of heart trouble.

Mr. Engle leaves three brothers, John Engle of Green Garden, Rev. Joseph W. Engle of Bessemer and Dr. O. C. Engle of Yardley, Pa., and one sister, Mrs. Anna Swob of Rush Center, Kas.

there was an old coal bank on her farm, and that if the county commissioners would buy coal to that amount from her, she would get someone to dig it and bring it in. The commissioners could not do with the coal and told the woman to try to raise the money in some other way. At last accounts she had not been brought to jail, so it is presumed some kind of arrangement had been made for paying the fine.

Under a recent ruling wholesale and retail beer licenses may be obtained from the county treasurer at any time. Previously it had been held that licenses could be obtained only on June 1. The list of applications for June 1 in Lawrence county will be considerably shorter than last year owing to the fact that those who secure licenses from the state board to sell hard liquor, can also sell beer. Those to whom licenses are issued by the county treasurer cannot sell the so-called hard liquors. It is probable that some of those who have had beer licenses during the past year will not be applicants this year, owing to the poor condition of trade.

Warneke-Hubbell Feature Openers In Major Leagues

Warneke Allows Only One Hit In Taking Measure Of Cincinnati Reds

Carl Hubbell Allows Phils Just Four Hits In Winning First Start Of Year

By DAVID J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Editor.

NEW YORK, April 18.—Maybe on the calendar it's only Wednesday, the morning directly after Tuesday night, but to the major league baseball it's the old alibi and aspirin day, following the 1934 openings, and one of the few who need neither is Lon Warneke the Chicago pitcher. Another is the average club treasurer who started in to count the receipts in the fifth inning and was still at it far into the night.

All told, it was one of the greatest opening days of the last ten years, with the paid attendance running well beyond 180,000. And in Cincinnati they put on a show that Bebe La Paus might have envied.

Warneke Features.

Herd, Warneke set the Reds down without a run or hit for 8 1/3 innings. He fanned 13 and only two reached first base. Then Comorosky singled and even a rabid Cincinnati crowd felt cheated. Particularly when the next two went out to give Warneke a near-hittless shutout, the Reds winning 6 to 0.

The only exhibition of this kind I can recall on opening day was Herb Pennock's one-hitter against the Red Sox in 1915.

It didn't take yesterday's masterpiece to confirm the fact that Warneke is one of the great right-handers of the generation.

Oddly, with the fast ball supposed to bring about a lot of hitting, the results of three National league games yesterday clearly showed that you don't hit what you can't see. In other words, three ranking pitchers, Warneke, Dizzy Dean and Carl Hubbell, held the combined opposition to two runs between them.

Hubbell, barring a momentary flutter in the first inning, was the same master pitcher who operated during the late world's series, stopping the Phillies with four hits and winning 6 to 1. Jimmy Wilson's homer in the seventh saved the Phils from a shutout. Meantime, the Giants who couldn't hit an audible foul for five weeks of the training season suddenly began pumping out hits with abandon against Jim Elliott, who lasted two innings.

Cards Whip Pirates.

Dean pitched the Cards to an easy 7 to 1 decision over the Pirates in the St. Louis opener, Medwick leading the assault upon Melne and

Muny Course To Open Saturday

Favorable Weather Should Attract Throng As City Links Open

With the Municipal Course in the best shape for spring play in several years, patrons of the course are looking forward to Saturday with expectancy, that date having been set for the official opening. Manager William G. Fleming stated to-day.

The greens and fairways have never been in better condition this early in the year and Greenskeeper John Reed and his helpers have been busy as bees the last ten days getting everything ready for the opening play.

Only a few finishing touches are now needed before the course is perfect, and these will be put on before Saturday. This consists of smoothing off the tees. The fairways have been rolled, the greens cut, and the cups will be in Saturday ready for play.

Before the season is over, many changes will have been made. R. W. D. workmen have about completed the task of making the two front rooms of the club house into one large room, which will accommodate around 100 people for dancing and parties.

A veranda is to be placed around the clubhouse, the brick work is being pointed up, and all will be painted green and white on the exterior. In addition, new locker and shower rooms will be built around the office in the rear, with quarters for the caddies beneath.

The present caddy house will be torn down. The city pest house, which stands between three and four fairways, is also to be moved to another location. These two changes will greatly enhance the beauty of the course.

Wilmington High Plans Ball Team

NEW WILMINGTON. April 18.—According to an announcement from Walt Whitman, superintendent, New Wilmington high school will be in the race for county honors when the secondary school baseball loop of the county opens on April 18.

New Wilmington has been conspicuously by its absence in the baseball field of the county in the past several seasons and the local athletes are determined that the local high will have suitable representation when the umpire bawls "play ball" at the opening league game on the 18th.

Whitman, former athlete of note and for some years a hurler of repute in northern Pennsylvania baseball circles, will handle the club and announced yesterday that the initial practice would take place as soon as the diamond was in fit condition.

He announced that lack of veteran material would sadly handicap the local boys but said that Duncan, Eagleton, Axe, Morowitz and Gibson would bolster up the green aggregation.

Only a few finishing touches are now needed before the course is perfect, and these will be put on before Saturday. This consists of smoothing off the tees. The fairways have been rolled, the greens cut, and the cups will be in Saturday ready for play.

City Tennis On Paying Basis Is Proposal Made

Proposal Offered For City To Charge $1.00 Per Year For Use Of City Courts

A proposal has been made that New Castle City Council set a $1.00 per year rate for playing on city tennis courts. Through this small fee an efficient manager could be installed at each court. No one without a ticket would be permitted to use the courts after a certain hour.

The courts could be given over to the youngsters free in the mornings and to the adults in the afternoons and evenings.

A city the size of New Castle should have several first class tennis courts properly maintained. The one dollar permit would entitle the tennis players to use any city maintained court.

Warneke-Hubbell Feature Openers In Major Leagues

Warneke Allows Only One Hit In Taking Measure Of Cincinnati Reds

Carl Hubbell Allows Phils Just Four Hits In Winning First Start Of Year

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Editor.

NEW YORK, April 18.—Maybe on the calendar it's only Wednesday, the morning directly after Tuesday night, but to major league baseball it's the old alibi and aspirin day, following the 1934 openings, and one of the few who need neither is Lon Warneke the Chicago pitcher. Another is the average club treasurer who started in to count the receipts in the fifth inning and was still at it far into the night.

All told, it was one of the greatest opening days of the last ten years, with the paid attendance running well beyond 180,000. And in Cincinnati they put on a show that Beasco might have envied.

Warneke Features.

Herd, Warneke set the Reds down without a run or hit for 81-3 innings. He fanned 13 and only two reached first base. Then Comorosky singled and even a rabid Cincinnati crowd felt cheated. Particularly when the next two went out to give Warneke a near-hitterless shutout, the Cubs winning 6 to 0.

The only exhibition of this kind I can recall on opening day was Herb Pennock's one-hitter against the Red Sox in 1915.

It didn't take yesterday's masterpiece to confirm the fact that Warneke is one of the great right-handers of the generation.

Oddly, with the fast ball supposed to bring about a lot of hitting, the results of three National league games yesterday clearly showed that you don't hit what you can't see. In other words, three ranking pitchers, Warneke, Dizzy Dean and Carl Hubbell, held the combined opposition to two runs between them.

Hubbell, barring a momentary flutter in the first inning, was the same master pitcher who operated during the late world's series, stopping the Phillies with four hits and winning 6 to 1. Jimmy Wilson's homer in the seventh saved the Phils from a shutout. Meantime, the Giants who couldn't hit an audible foul for five weeks of the training season, suddenly began pumping out hits with abandon against Jim Elliott, who lasted two innnings.

Cards Whip Pirates.

Dean pitched the Cards to an easy 7 to 1 decision over the Pirates in the St. Louis opener. Medwick leading the assault upon Meine and others with a homer and two singles for three runs.

After being touted from the Bronx to the Battery as a greatly changed club, the Yankees uncovered their old 1933 tendency toward blowing up in the late innings and lost to the Athletics in Philadelphia, 6 to 5. Another serio-comedy saw the Senators beat the Red Sox by the score, 6 to 5, in 11 innings. The Senators scored four times in the first inning while Outfielder Julius Solters was demonstrating why he is recognized everywhere as a promising hitter.

Indians Top Browns.

Averill's double and homer gave the Indians a 5 to 2 decision over the Browns, while Cochran's Detroit Tigers were using six hits to score four times in each of the second and eighth to beat Sam Jones and the White Sox, 8 to 3.

However, in many respects, it was a pretty unusual day. In fact, even the Dodgers won. They beat the Braves 8 to 7 by blasting Brandt out of the box to lead by six runs in the third. But the Braves scored three in the ninth, thanks to R. Moore's third hit, and needed only a run to tie when Whitney lined into the final out.

Incidentally, Hornsby played third base for the Browns and hit once. Klein also hit once for the Cubs and it was good for four bases. Ruth walked twice, fanned once and hit not at all. Neither did Foxx.

Muny Course To Open Saturday

Favorable Weather Should Attract Throng As City Links Open

With the Municipal Course in the best shape for spring play in several years, patrons of the course are looking forward to Saturday with expectancy, that date having been set for the official opening. Manager William G. Fleming stated to fine shape.

This is the first of the many sweepstakes that will be staged during the coming summer months. According to Mr. Monsey the course is in fine shape.

Only a few finishing touches are now needed before the course is perfect, and these will be put on before Saturday. This consists of smoothing off the tees. The fairways have been rolled, the greens cut, and the cups will be in Saturday ready for play.

Before the season is over, many changes will have been made. R. W. D. workmen have about completed the task of making the two front rooms of the club house into one large room, which will accommodate around 100 people for dancing and parties.

A veranda is to be placed around the clubhouse, the brick work is being pointed up, and all will be painted green and white on the exterior. In addition, new locker and shower rooms will be built around the office in the rear, with quarters for the caddies beneath.

The present caddy house will be torn down. The city pest house, which stands between three and four fairways, is also to be moved to another location. These two changes will greatly enhance the beauty of the course.

Spring Sports Start For Titan Squads

(Special To The News) NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., April 18.—Spring sports started today at Westminster college when tennis and track men reported for initial drills.

The tennis team, due to the addition of a number of freshmen candidates, should be fairly strong. Arthur Brownell, Cleveland, O.; and Robert Grier, Pittsburgh, are outstanding among the fresh. Everett Campbell, Youngstown, O.; Geoffrey Sowash, New Wilmington; Tom Mc-Clure, Blairsville are among the veterans.

Track men reported to Coach R. X. Graham for the first time and were given instructions about the season. An important feature of the season will be an all-college intra-mural meet which will be held the last week in May. It is hoped that two or more meets with district schools can be arranged.

Outstanding track men are Ray Sweeney, Youngstown, O.; Harold Burry, New Castle; Hugh McCall, Youngstown, O.; and Leslie Simpson, Saltsburg.

Wilmington High

Plans Ball Team

NEW WILMINGTON, April 18.—According to announcement from Walt Whitman, superintendent, New Wilmington high school will be in the race for county honors when the secondary school baseball loop of the club opens on April 18.

New Wilmington has been conspicuously by its absence in the baseball field of the county in the past several seasons and the local athletes are determined that the local high will have suitable representation when the umpire bawls "play ball" at the opening league game on the 18th.

Whitman, former athlete of note and for some years a hurler of repute in northern Pennsylvania baseball circles, will handle the club and announced yesterday that the initial practice would take place as soon as the diamond was in fit condition.

He announced that lack of veteran material would sadly handicap the local boys but said that Duncan, Eagleson, Axe, Morowitz and Gibson would bolster up the green aggregation.

A veranda is to be placed around the clubhouse, the brick work is being pointed up, and all will be painted green and white on the exterior.

In addition, new locker and shower rooms will be built around the office in the rear, with quarters for the caddies beneath.

The present caddy house will be torn down. The city pest house, which stands between three and four fairways, is also to be moved to another location. These two changes will greatly enhance the beauty of the course.

Managers of Lawrence County Baseball league teams will meet at eight p. m. tonight at the Sport Goods store where such matters as the opening date, proposed schedule and admittance of other clubs to the circuit will be discussed. There are four teams in the league all of which have paid their franchise money.

MERCHANTS TO MEET

East Side Merchants mushball players and fans are asked to meet tonight at 7:30 o'clock, today on McElroys for the purpose of discussing the future of mushball at the Rose Avenue field. ### Ryantown To Hold Meeting

Ryantown baseball club will hold a meeting at 5:30 p. m. today on the Ryantown field. All members of last season's team will be present. It is expected that Grimm, Henry, Seward and others will get a tryout for the team, which is in the Independent circuit. Joe Samuels is the manager of the team.

The pairings are as follows:

Buffalo at Newark; Toronto at Albany; Rochester at Baltimore; Montreal at Syracuse.

The light teams of the class AA circuit will commence operations today.

County Sportsmen's Association Buys Pheasants, Dodds Reports

Lawrence County Sportsmen's association has purchased and released 25 pheasants in Lawrence county, according to President Andrew Dodds.

The association paid $2 each for the "birds".

It is reported an investigation is under way to find out the allotments made to different counties. Lawrence was reported as being allotted but 15 birds for this season.

This is nothing more than a proposal, and Sebastian C. Isabella of the south side is the man who came forward with it, but it seems to have merits.

Board Plans To Punish Delinquent Library Borrowers

Librarian Instructed To Use Every Resource Against Delinquent Borrowers

ELLWOOD CITY, April 18.—Strong action against delinquent borrowers of the Ellwood City Public Library was taken by the Library Board at its monthly meeting last night in its rooms.

The board instructed Librarian Mrs. Catherine M. Charles to use every resource against the delinquent borrowers in getting them to observe the rules and paying their due fines. No more books will be given out until others have been accounted for in regards to the delinquent borrower.

The matter of extending library service to the hospital met with approval and the service will start as soon as certain equipment is secured.

A special committee was selected to study the budget and then present it to the Finance Committee of the Borough Council. The budget is down to its minimum of $12,000 a year now. The board feels that they cannot do with a decreased amount, unless they stop the purchase of new books, it was announced that work on rebinding books as an RWD project has been stopped until further notice.

The board decided that they will recommend President V. V. Johnson, for Governor Pinchot's appointment to the National Convention in Montreal. There will be five representatives from this state, and one of the representatives will come from Ellwood City.

True Blue Class Has Meeting Here

ELLWOOD CITY, April 18.—True Blue Bible class of the Slippery Rock Presbyterian church met at the home of Mrs. Howard Jones on the New Brighton road last night for its regular meeting. Mrs. Louise Hape led the devotions for the occasion and Mrs. Warren Wilson, the president, was in charge of the business meeting.

Plans for a Mothers and Daughters banquet sometime in May were formulated at this time. A social time was then enjoyed as a result of which Miss Ella Wilson, Mrs. Crouthers, and Mrs. Russell Kemp captured the prizes. Lunch was served later by the hostess with the assistance of Mrs. M. J. Guy.

HERE ON FRIDAY

Plans to send a delegation from New Castle to the annual meeting of the Rivers and Harbors Congress in Washington, April 30, and to the special meeting on April 28, when the Beaver and Mahoning rivers project will be brought up for specific discussion, will be outlined at a special meeting of the Chamber of Commerce directors in The Castleton, Friday, April 20.

In addition to this project, other matters of importance to the Chamber of Commerce will be brought up for discussion.

Favorable consideration has been expressed toward the Beaver and Mahoning rivers canalization plans, which is expected to be made the major project of the National Rivers and Harbors Congress at their meeting next month.

It is for this reason, that a special meeting of the executive committee has been arranged prior to the annual meeting of the Congress, when plans will be made to specifically aid the improvement of the Beaver and Mahoning.

Invitations have been issued through the Chamber of Commerce and Alfred W. Chilton, vice president of the National Rivers and Harbors Congress to attend the meeting in Washington, to city and county officials, the service clubs, and others in Lawrence county, including New Castle and Ellwood City, and to Youngstown interests. It is expected to have a big delegation from the district present at the coming meetings.
